QNET presents:

The Civility Solution:

How civility at work can increase retention, engagement and profitability

Tuesday, September 12, 2017 – 8:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

Location: QNET – Suite 660, 175 Hargrave Street, Winnipeg

What would you do with 30% more revenue?

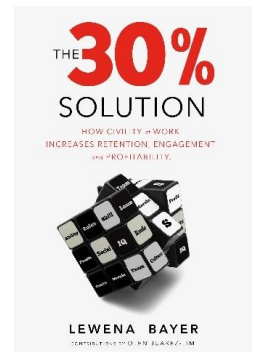

Research by Weber and Shadwick shows that organizations that incorporate civility into their workplace culture experience on average 30% more revenue as well as increases in retention and engagement. Civility goes way beyond simply being nice at work, and it's going to take more than a Respectful Workplace Policy to get you there – BUT, by correctly assessing civility in your workplace, and then engaging in strategic training in one or more of four skill areas related to civility, you can save time and money – and experience the benefits of civility at work.

Session topics include:

- Overview of the world of work – current condition
- Introduction of civility as a solution
- Defining civility
- The business case for civility
- Discussion of civility as a change imperative
- Getting started building a culture of civility
- Assessing civility
- The Civility Culture Compass®; 4 conditions that underpin success
- The Civility Competency Matrix® – introduction to the 4 core competencies that underpin civility in the workplace
- Putting it all together – How to build your Civility at Work Toolkit

Participants leave with:

- An understanding of the benefits of initiating a civility initiative
- Tools to assess levels of civility and barriers to civility in their workplace
- A strategy to start building a culture of civility
- A copy of international bestseller book The 30% Solution, by Lew Bayer

Facilitator:

Lew Bayer is nationally recognized as Canada's leading expert on civility in the workplace, with focus on Social Intelligence and culturally-competent communication. She is founder of the Center for Cultural Competence and President of civilityexperts.com. Lew is a 6-time published author, national columnist and faculty member at Georgetown University. Recently, she won the 2008 Manitoba Woman Entrepreneur of the Year award in the International Business category.
