QNET presents:

Workplace Leadership Refresher

Tuesday, March 3, 2009 – 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon

If you have attended Linton Sellen's Workplace Leadership Course in the past then plan to be at this half day refresher session. Linton will review some of the important concepts covered in Workplace Leadership, address questions from participants, and share new information on leadership principles and practices with participants.

If you have not attended the Workplace Leadership Course, feel free to join in this morning session to learn more about the concepts that Linton covers in the QNET Certificate in Leadership Development \(CLD\). However, please note that this event is primarily focused as a refresher for those that have attended the course in the past; it is not intended to be an information session for the QNET CLD or Workplace Leadership Course.

Facilitator: Linton Sellen of Training Plus is an experienced manager, trainer and trainer of supervisors. He has won awards for his leadership, presentation skills and training ability. He received his post secondary education from the Faculty of Management and the Faculty of Law at the University of Manitoba. Linton earned his multi-engine pilot wings, the highest instructional category available from the Canadian Air Force. With this and his commission as an officer he was put in charge of the training and evaluation of Air Force supervisors and instructors. He also acquired years of first-hand practical experience as a manager, coach, and leader. For the last seven years, Linton has conducted on sight and classroom training of managers and supervisors and provided leadership consultation to businesses and other organizations through the company Training Plus. Specializing in the area of leadership development he has developed the Workplace Leader Course to address the issues faced by the leader in the modern workplace.
